Paint-Outs

Second Saturday Paint-Out - January 12 from 9:00am to 12:00 noon

This first paint-out of 2008 will be held at the Santa Barbara Royal Presidio, 123 E. Canon Perdido Street, corner of E. Canon Perdido and Santa Barbara Street. The Santa Barbara Trust for Historic Preservation has provided SCAPE members the use of the parking area accessed on E. Canon Perdido: turn left at the driveway immediately on edge of property before the low buildings. We must leave the parking area prior to 12:30 pm as The Trust has an afternoon event at the Presidio and needs their parking lot.

I encourage you, prior to attending the Paint-Out, to visit the Casa de la Guerra Museum at 15 De la Guerra Street to see the current exhibit of historic Casas in the central Santa Barbara area. There are pictures of 14 Casas that will inspire you to put your easel up on the sidewalk and paint.

Santa Barbara Royal Presidio was the last in a chain of four military fortresses built by the Spanish along the coast of Alta California. Now a California State Park, El Presidio is the only reconstructed Presidio in the state. It serves as a living historical site and offers a wide range of programs interpreting the Spanish, Mexican and Native American heritage of Santa Barbara.
